Dedication

Dear Henry;
To Bay View's outstanding student, swimmer, etc. of 1950. You're really a swell pal Henry, lot of luck.

Jim
Hart

To the progressive development of each student so that he may finally grow to maturity and come to realize the dual role that will undoubtedly be his in life, that of leader and of follower, we dedicate this volume, the 1950 Oracle Annual.

Dr. Korn signs the pact for "Ye Olde Wooden Football," to be kept by the losing team, Pulaski or Bay View.

Erv Nickel runs interference for Ed Willman.

Tom Gill, John Suchorski, and Art Manti try to recover a fumble.

Norm Rybka throws a block into Clarence Pieterick.

In the Homecoming game Art Manti runs interference for Pat Pangborn.

Bay View cheerleaders practice in Humboldt Park.

Nadine Goldstein, Emily Roggenkamp and Ted Kern were the S. G. A. 9B instruction committee in 327.

Ballots for Assembly representatives are tabulated in 203.

Ronald Harris and Albert Schmidt sell the new "Red Cat" book covers.

Members of Miss Riley's homeroom vote for an Assembly representative.

James McKinnon and Eugene Nelson present a "Strictly from Hunger" noon-hour broadcast.

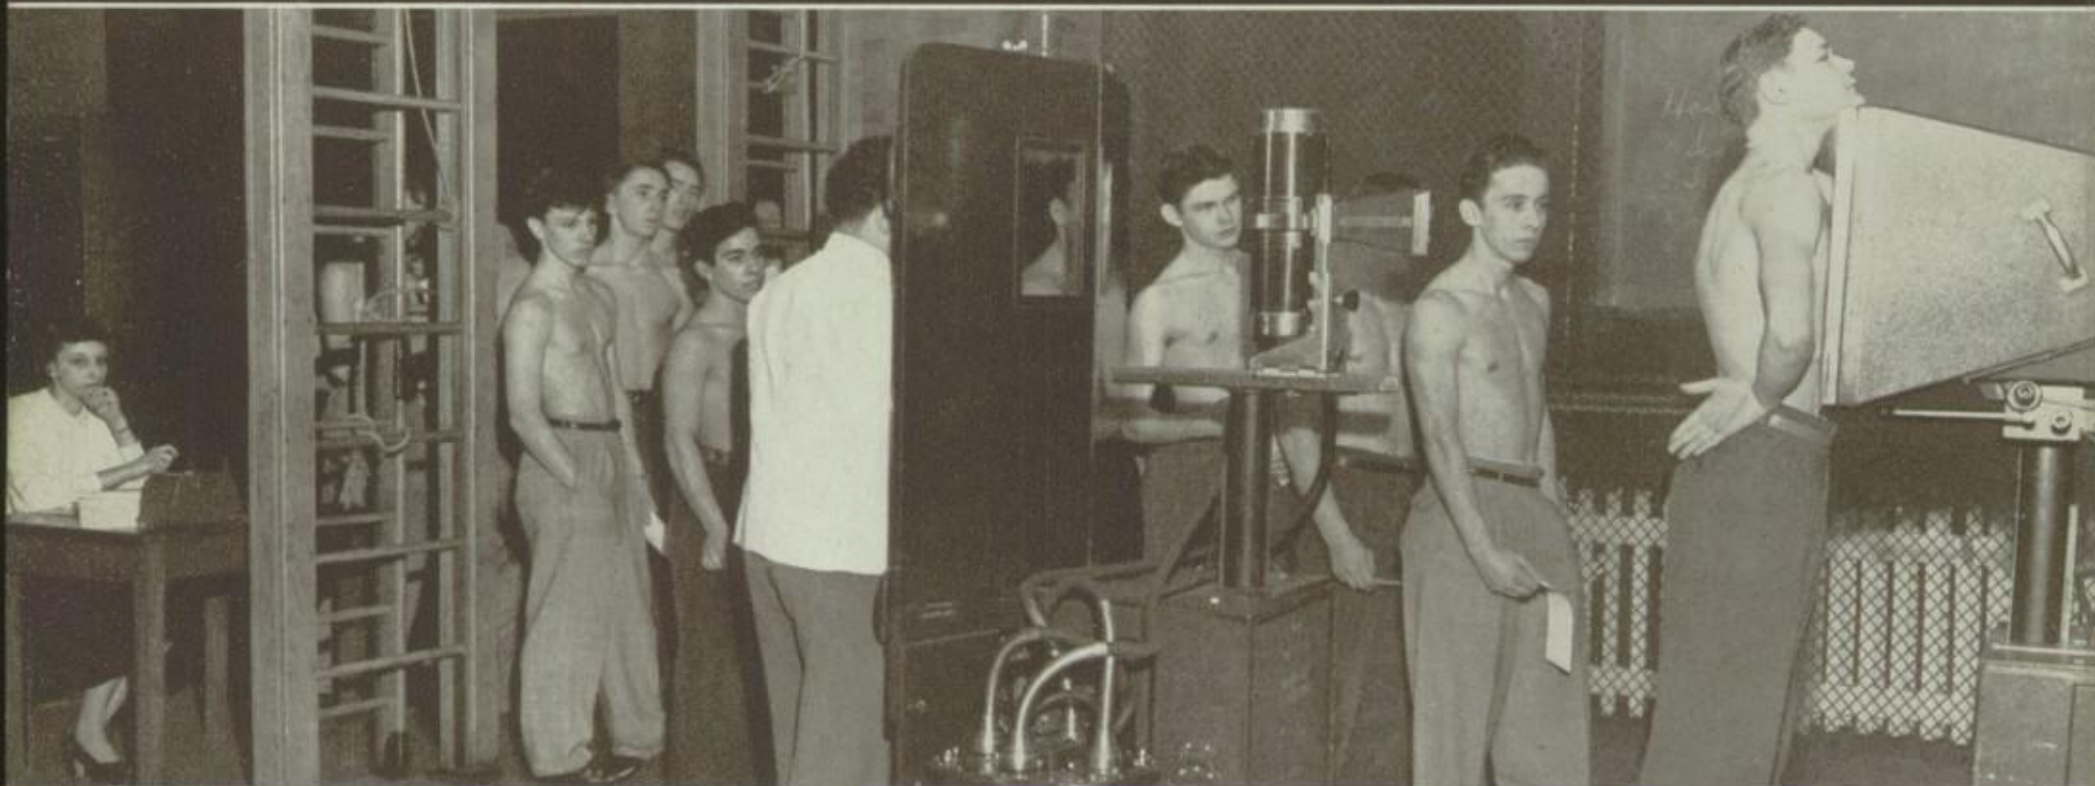

Dr. Korn administers the oath of office to Jean Geil, President of S. G. A.

James Gallagher, Thomas Friedel, Louis Zotter and Edward Bessler use the mirrors after a gym class.

Dolores Hetzel and James Hart are selected "Betty and Bob Upright" in Posture Week.

Only a few variations from normal were shown in chest X-rays given February 23 and 24.

Nurse Dolores Kautzer makes a routine throat check-up.

Dr. Jay Kettner cares for Edmund Judiewicz and James Guss, football casualties.

Dorothy Adams, Patricia Kearns and Janet Owen are in charge of special departments in the Library Guild.

Seniors James Guy, Tom Cerreto, Burt Gutteter, Jean Wenta, Robert Szymkowiak and Okey Shaw, serve in the library.

Scenes like this are duplicated every period in the library.

Jean Wenta, Carol LaMarre, James Guy, Thomas Cerreto, Beverly Bartz and Marion Schmid are the officers of the Library Guild.

These nine girls type and do other chores in the workroom.

Bettye Wolf, Carol Murray, Phyllis Rolke, June Holloway, Edith Weltman and Judith Troger check books in and out.

Dr. Korn and Mr. Osterndorf confer with Mr. Frank Greenya, Armistice Day speaker.

Eugene Nelson gives the Gettysburg Address at the eleventh hour ceremonies on Armistice Day.

Copies of Freedom Train documents were in Bay View's corridors for a week.

Here are the seventeen members selected for the All-City Orchestra.

Students from Mrs. Grimes's class study the Freedom Train documents.

Twenty students had the honor of being chosen for the All-City Band.

At a Wednesday afternoon meeting, Miles Henniger, a chemical engineer, explains the nature of his work.

Dr. Korn talks with Preston Bradley, who addresses an all-school convocation, February 28.

Irvin Radloff, Secretary-Treasurer of the Henschel Manufacturing Co., speaks at the Lincoln-Washington program.

Dr. L. H. Matthews, introduced by Okey Shaw, spoke on teaching as a profession.

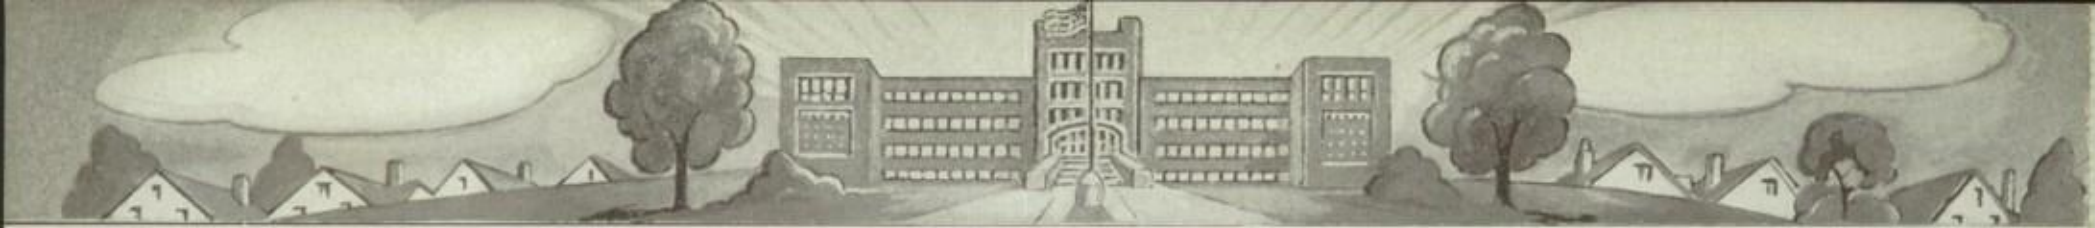

Mr. Crawford's son Don presented his movie, "Round the World on the Yankee."

Mr. J. J. Smith introduced Irving G. Bohrman, Vice President of the Perfex Corporation, at an Advisement meeting.

Kenneth Beers, recreational director, was introduced to an Advisement audience by Gerald Hurley.

The manger scene was portrayed by Viewites in the Christmas production.

Members of Miss Lea's speech classes were narrators for the annual Yuletide pageant.

The entire cast are on stage for the finale of "The Kingdom of the Christ Child."

Members of the pageant cast receive last-minute briefing.

Richard Moe and Kenneth Bock trim the Christmas tree.

Angels parade in the Christmas pageant.

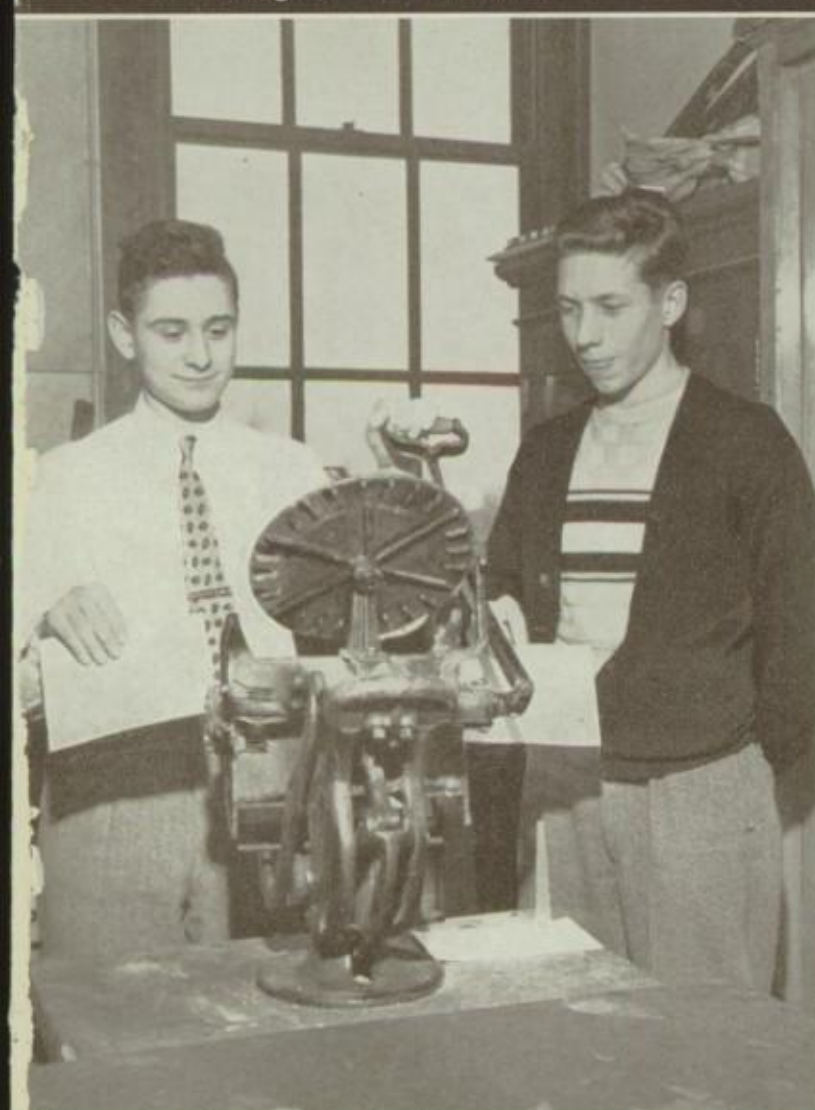

Caroling for Bay View in front of the traditional Christmas tree are the Girls' Glee Club.

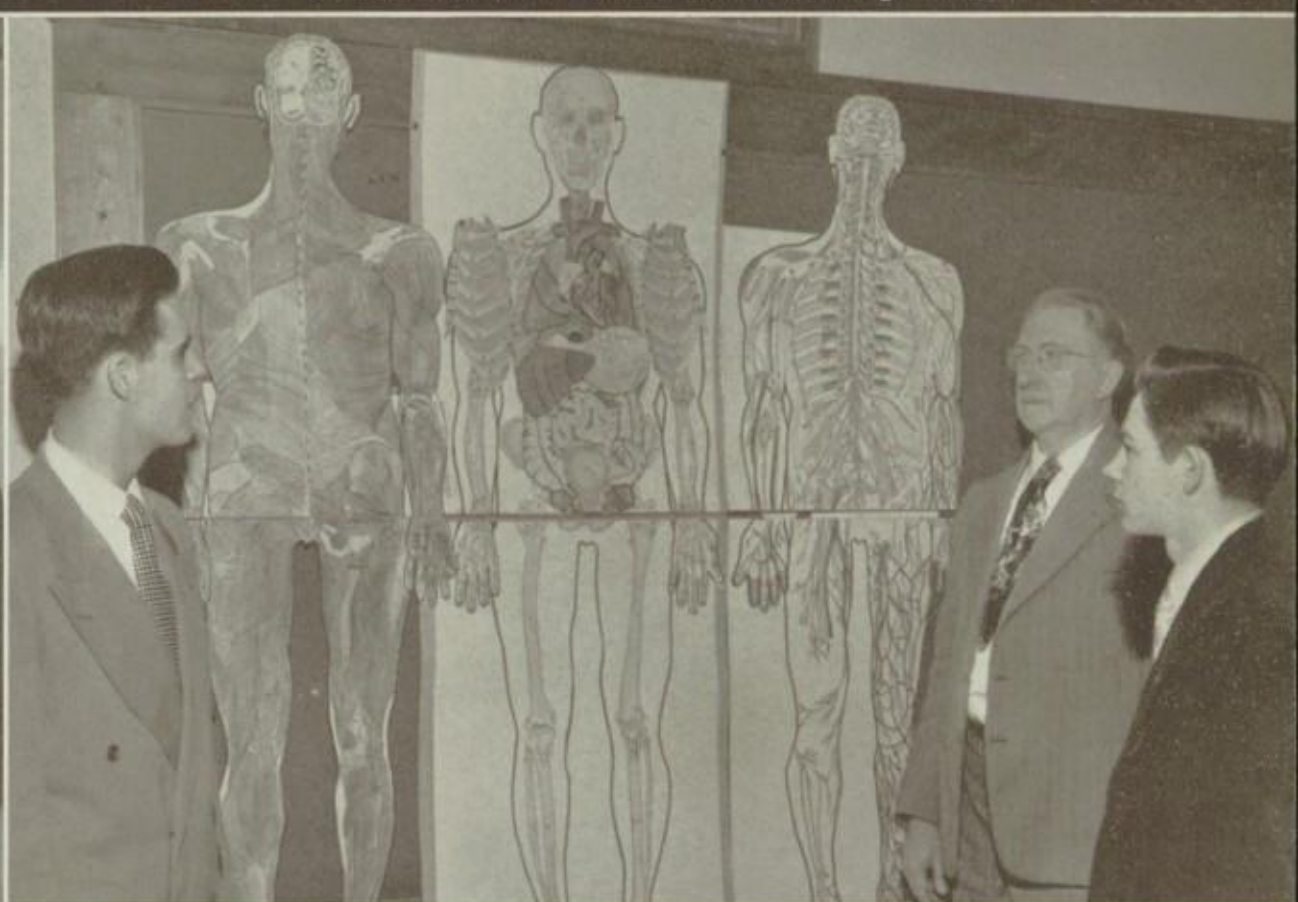

Diane Markussen is the seeing eye for Marlene Fenger, X Club member.

Gordon Housfeld and Paul Kott run the printing press.

Merlin Kottke and Bob Fritz constructed the manikin, "Herman", under the direction of Mr. Dennis.

Kenneth Struck, Wendall Smith and William Massey make a miniature of Silas Marner's Raveloe.

Members of Miss Lane's homeroom prepare boxes for shipment overseas.

Larry Hanoski took many pictures for the Oracle Newspaper and Annual.

Merlin Kottke and Jon Heider, members of the projection crew, splice a film.

Mary Jane Naylor, Ruth Delzer, and Carolyn Steel prepare the Oracle Newspaper for delivery.

Kenneth Bock polishes the mike while Merlin Kottke, Neil Perry, Ed Willman and Richard Steel look on.

These members of the Usher crew were graduated in January.

Carolyn Sobieczak sells candy to Eugene Johnson and David Schoeder.

The Welcome Stranger Group helps newcomers to feel at home.

Beverly Filenius, Marian Hiegel, Jeanne Smith, Charlotte Pahlow and Beverly Turzenski check attendance.

For four years Grace Coconate served in the cafeteria.

X Club members, Janice Beyer, Richard Gedymin, and Marian Shmidt greet the 9 B's.

Esther Stramowski and June Crosby check the lunches of Harvey Mantey and Janet Brielmaier.

Merlin Kottke describes the school's curriculum in mathematics and science to Emcee Buettner.

Dr. B. C. Korn addresses the radio audience in the Teen-age Time broadcast February 4th.

WTMJ technicians work on Bay View's stage.

Al Buettner listens while students present a panel on teenagers' use of leisure time.

Jean Geil, President of Student Assembly, explains student responsibility at the Teen-age broadcast.

Mr. Tomkiewicz shows the handicraft of a metal working class.

Parents receive from Building Ushers the program cards of their children.

Here is the group that listened to Miss Kahle during one of the lunch hours at Open House.

Dr. Korn welcomes parents to Bay View's Open House.

Parents, following the programs of their children, meet Mr. Matthei in the boys' gym.

Mr. Dennis explains to parents the mysteries of the human skull.

Mr. Schoeller discusses how typing is taught.

Miss Grey of the Household Arts Department greets a group of interested parents.

Incoming freshmen and their teachers watch the girls' swimming demonstration.

New clocks with dials visible from either side dominate the corridors.

The boys of the dance band provide music for the Saturday night dances.

Members of the aeronautics class and Mr. Buchanan visit the airport on a field trip.

Audrey Wulff, Faye Johnson, Irene Varga are the billing clerks for the Oracle.

Grade school music lovers fill the auditorium for a pre-Music Festival concert.

Bob Fritz and Bob Hammes proudly show their senior rings to Kenneth Bock.

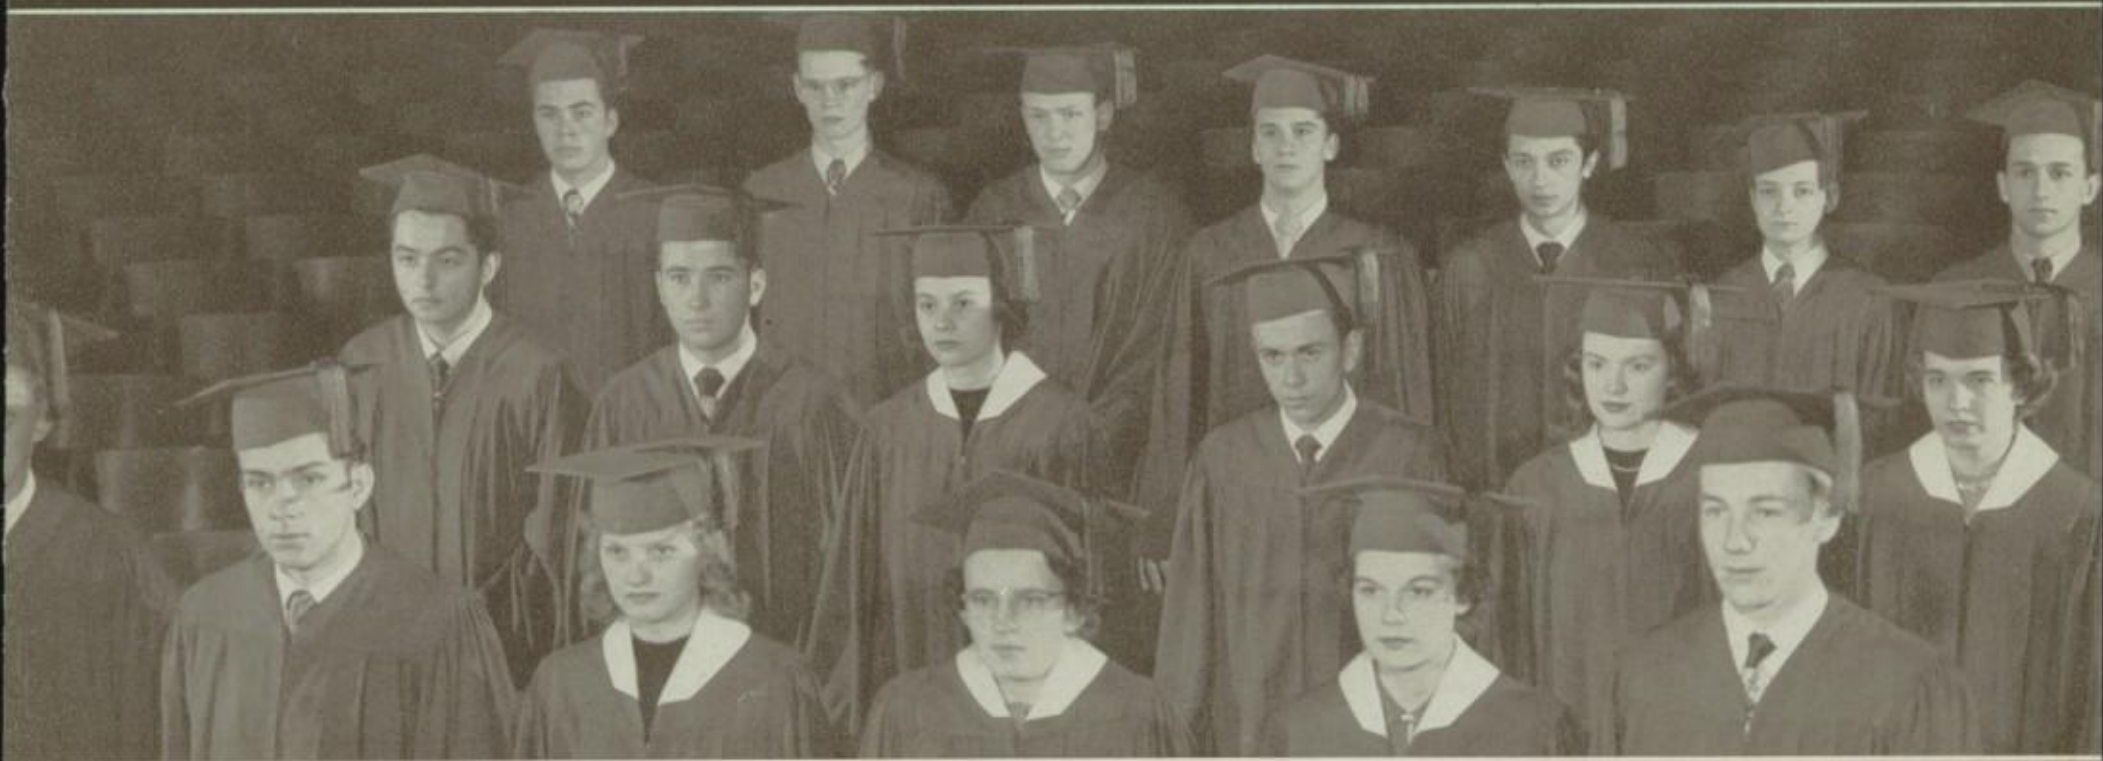

Arden Kreider, a graduate, is measured for his cap and gown.

Graduates exchange diplomas in the gym. This group was originally taken for a division page.

January graduates appear in the auditorium on Cap and Gown Day.

The photographer caught this group before he posed the January division page.

Boys and girls meet in the halls and the classes

... for activity-filled school days.

The School

The on-rushing years have seen Bay View a leader in the march when educators were hailing the child-centered school, and in the forefront, too, when the emphasis was placed on individual differences. Granted that emphasis, it is inevitable that every teacher judge the work of a student by what he does, bearing in mind what he has been given to work with. The three concepts are inherent in each other. The student has become the measure.

Dr. Korn, in his Teenage Time message, defined for a large radio audience the nature of the school in 1950:

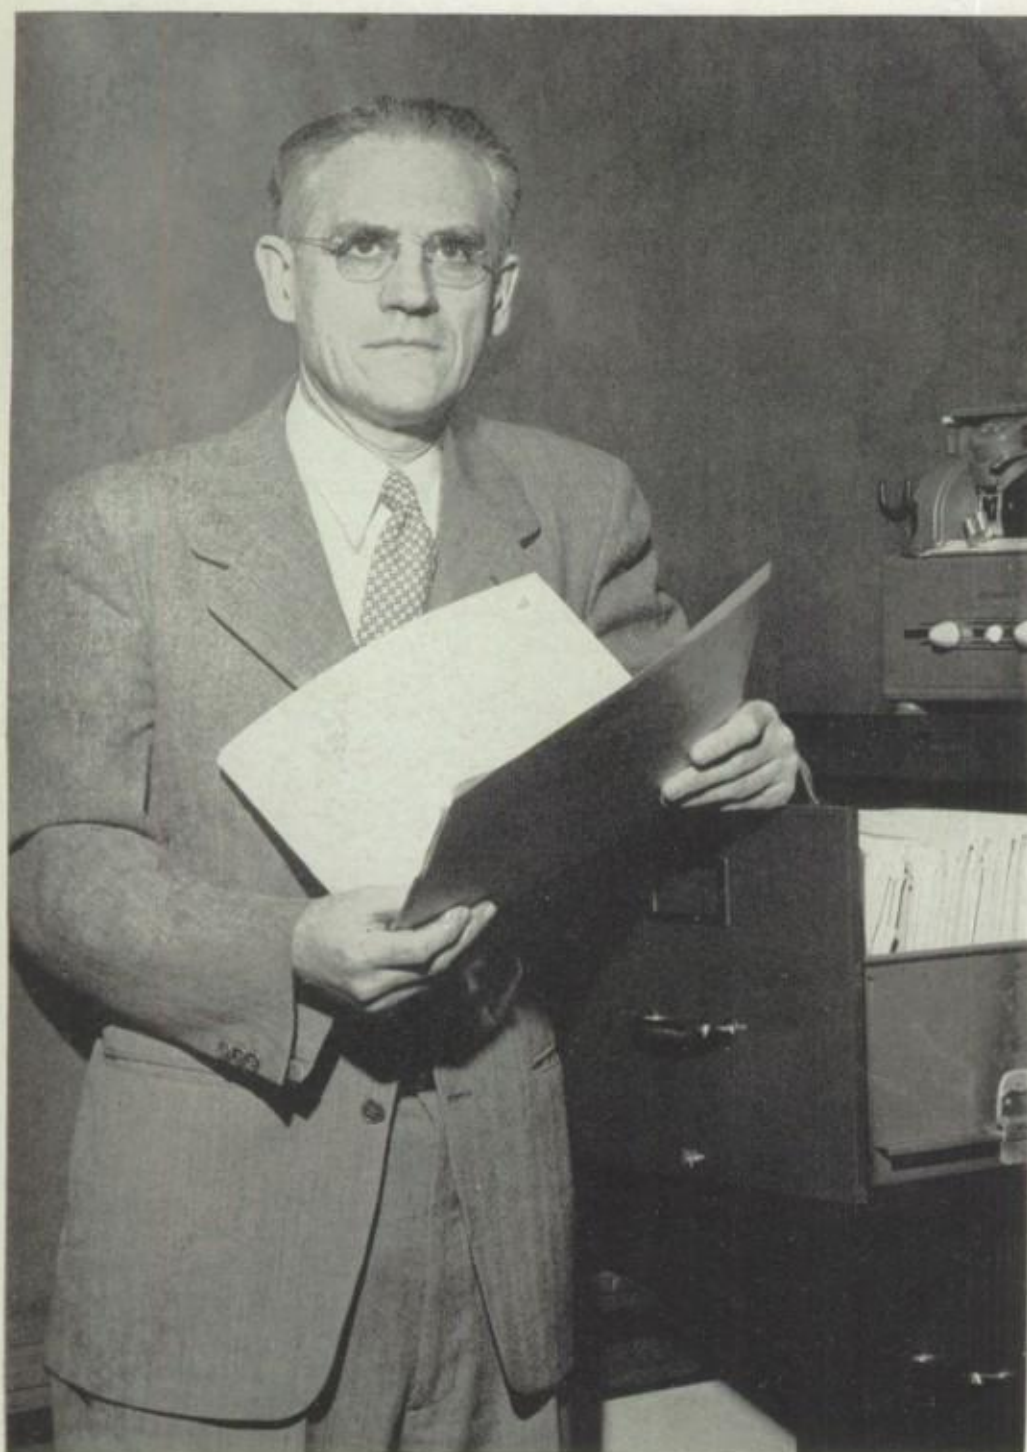

"The school of today differs from the school of yesterday in that today we are educating all the children of all the people, while yesterday we educated only the chosen few. Education today means far more than book-learning—more than an accumulation of sterile facts; today education means preparation for living."

DR. BERNHARD C. KORN, Principal

No philosophy of education is effective, however, unless students are kept in school so that an orderly learning process may be possible. In Bay View there is always one person who has as a major concern the attendance habits of students. He approves their excuses for absence and keeps the entire system, which checks on non-attendance, working efficiently. How successful the painstaking check has become is graphically portrayed in a colorful chart made by Art students and hung in room 225.

MR. HARLEY B. WILEY, Counselor Chairman

MR. RAYMOND N. DONDLINGER, Vice-Principal

The work of the guidance staff begins long before a student is enrolled at Bay View. Every semester a counselor who will adopt an incoming group as his particular charge for four years, meets with students and grade teachers and plans the programs of the newcomers. Before they come to school, moreover, their parents are invited to Bay View to meet the counselors and the homeroom teachers who will direct the incoming freshmen.

The meetings with the parents continue through a student's entire high school course and this year, Bay View invited the parents of all students to an evening meeting. On this occasion, fathers and mothers went through the school day of their children, and teachers explained to them the nature of the subject matter presented in each class.

MISS STATZ, Dean of Girls

The school year of 1949-50 at Bay View has seen lively eight hours every Wednesday when students meet in their homerooms or in special groups for life advisement.

Early in the semester a survey of vocational interests is made in the homerooms. All work is regarded as possessing dignity if well done, and personal service and public service work as well as work in the trades and professions are considered.

Speakers from various fields of activity in which students have indicated an interest have met with small groups to discuss what makes an individual successful in a particular job at any time, and what the job outlook is at present.

During the four years any student spends at Bay View, every effort is made by his homeroom teacher and his counselor to make him a maturing individual.

To me of my own who suffered through four years I took a year in close with you. Thanks, I give you for all your help in. Love

COUNSELORS

Mr. Suttle, Miss Lane, Miss Steel, Mr. May.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

WORKING ON THE SCRAPBOOK

Dorothy Severence, President Semester I; James Gallagher, Historian Semester I; Joan Southwick.

OFFICERS

Eugene Plitt, Treasurer; Faye Johnson, Secretary; Jean Geil, President; Betsy Brown, Historian; Joan Van Stelle, First Vice President; William Galligan, Second Vice President.

The 1950 graduating class was enrolled when student government had its beginnings at Bay View, and this class has had a part in many changes that have come to the school because of S. G. A. The dances, the corridor surveillance, the 9B instruction committees, the noon-hour activities, the student court, the honor study halls, the student assembly—all have been established in the last four years. All have come to be accepted as a vital part of school life.

Student government is necessarily by representatives. These are chosen by ballot in homerooms and clubs, and each representative has membership in the assembly for at least a semester.

THE BOARD

James Sutton, John Risch, Phillip May, Nancy Walsh, Ronald Kreider, Eugene Nelson, Jean Geil.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The Student Board consists of one representative from each grade, two members-at-large, and the President. This small representative board makes possible the securing of student opinion on problems presented by the Assembly or brought to their attention by other students or the faculty.

The members of the court are appointed by the board. The Student Court this year found themselves forced to make decisions not always popular with many students, but important in teaching teen-agers to be accountable for their own actions. The Court deals with situations wherein a student does not conform to school regulations in some respect.

BULLETIN BOARD COMMITTEE

Marilyn Roesler, Hugh Evans, Betsy Brown.

INAUGURATION

BUILDING USHERS

Douglas Kemnitz, Robert Hammes,
Robert Fritz, Naomi Bennett, Neil Perry,
Patricia Klafke, Thomas Riese.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

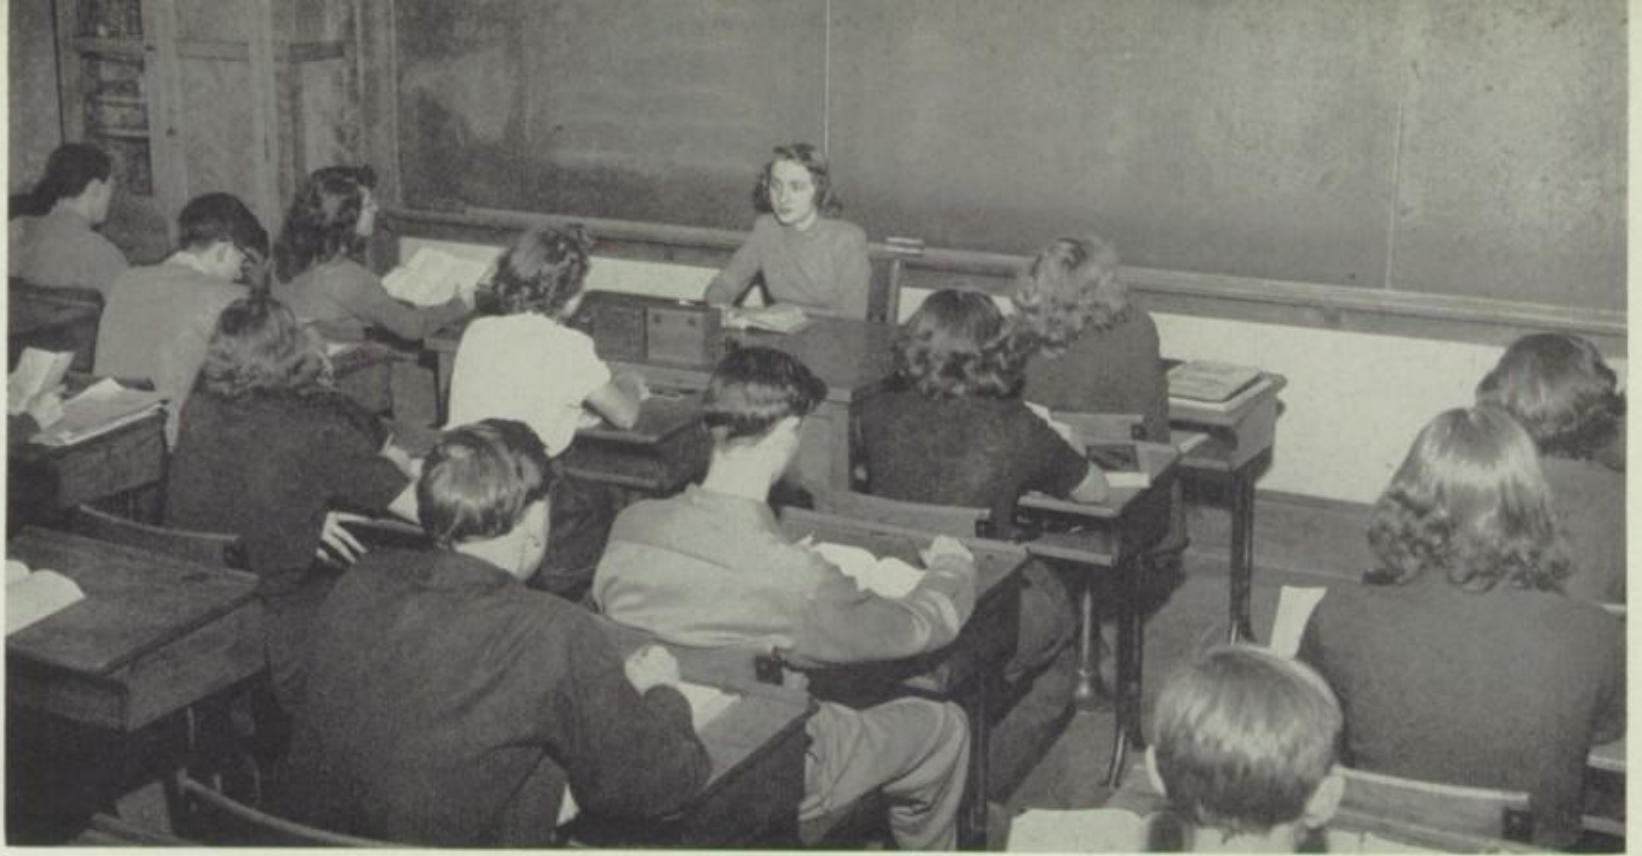

With the able guidance of the Central Study Hall Committee and the co-operation of participating students, honor study halls hit a new mark in Bay View's history. Challenging the self-reliance and responsibility of every student, membership in these self-regulated study groups has become a real part of training for adult life.

Dances are sponsored by clubs and homerooms, and a great deal of work goes into the publicity over the loud speaker and the decoration of the gymnasium. Bay View's Saturday night dances, held on the average of twice a month, are under the direction of the Dance Committee. This committee has charge of everything from sending invitations to chaperones, to ordering straws for the well known "Coke Bar."

HOST AND HOSTESSES

La Verne Hinz, Karen Frostad, Robert Anderson, Marian Heigel, Joseph Clark.

9B STUDY HALL

CHESS AND CHECKERS

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The noon hour program was greatly enlarged during the past year. Weekly movies, inaugurated last year, were continued and game periods were added. Shuffleboard and ping pong, sponsored by the G.A.A., made the Girls' gym a popular spot on Fridays. About sixty students entered chess or checkers competition which saw the crowning of a champion for each section.

Building Ushers serve for all public performances and parents' nights. The ushers greet parents and friends at the door and guide them through the building. Similar to these ushers are the Hosts and Hostesses who assume the same duties during the school hours.

With the first three years over, Bay View students look forward to the time when they will be the mighty seniors, the leaders in school. They know that in the year ahead, from their ranks will come the president of S. G. A., the editors of the Oracle newspaper and the Oracle Annual, the officers of the clubs, and the star athletes in football, cross country, basketball, swimming, track, and baseball. A surprising number every year rise to recognition in some school activity, and although all will not have the spotlight, every senior will play an envied role in the eyes of aspiring under-classmen.

Activities

THE ANNUAL

The 1950 Oracle presents Bay View High School not as it exists in the mind of anyone person or any small group of people. Combined within its pages are suggestions from at least a fourth of the student body, suggestions that have been considered by the editorial staff and wherever it seemed possible, fitted into the plan of the book. Seniors are grouped as they chose to be; activities are presented as their leaders desired; pictures have been welcomed from anyone. As one person is glorified in these pages, so one activity in the life of the school has been singled out for emphasis. It is the hope of the editorial staff that many Bay View students will find themselves shown as their friends, at least, know them, and that no one will feel insignificant in the entire picture here presented of Bay View, 1950.

THE NEWSPAPER

The Oracle newspaper "written by and for the students of Bay View High School," is the result of the combined efforts of the entire staff and the advisor teachers, co-operating with one another to produce the "voice" of the school.

Work for each issue is begun when the members of the news staff hold a meeting at which they plan news and assign stories to the reporters. From then on, everyone works together to meet the deadline, writing, editing, headlining, and making frequent trips to the printer.

When, every other Friday, the newspapers are distributed in the homerooms, every student whose name is listed in the mast head, from the typists and ad takers to the editors and reporters, feels a real sense of accomplishment.

OFFICERS, SEMESTER I

Seated: Robert Ewing, Secretary; Edward Willman, President; James McKinnon, Vice-President.
Standing: Gerald Hurley, Sergeant-at-Arms; Eugene Plitt, Treasurer; John Krupke, Assembly Representative.

OFFICERS, SEMESTER II

John Suchorski, Vice-President; Edward Judziewicz, Treasurer; Thaddeus Harenda, President; John Krupke, Assembly Representative; Raymond Taschner, Sergeant-at-Arms; Edward Willman, Secretary.

Activity, co-operation, and skill were stressed in Boys' Club during 1949-1950, as were wholesome fun and friendship. The activity sections gave Boys' Club members an opportunity to participate in chess and checkers, table tennis, athletic publicity over the Public Address System, and volley ball.

Not only did the officers of Boys' Club provide activity sections, but they also sponsored a swimming demonstration put on by the swimming team and a humorous type of quiz show, in which the officers assumed the role of brilliant students giving such answers as "Milton Berle" to the question, "Who was our first president?"

BOYS' CLUB

The officers of Boys' Club proved themselves capable not only of planning excellent programs, but also of providing entertaining election "bally-hoo," for they produced one of the funniest types of pre-election skits presented by a party of candidates, namely the Bathing Beauty Revue.

In a friendly, good humored spirit, a "Truth or Consequence" program was presented by the officers of Boys' Club. Midway through the semester the Boys' and Girls' Club held a joint meeting, sponsoring an interesting lecture and movie on Alaska. In the late spring a Variety Show was held, featuring the most popular talent of Bay View, and at the last meeting Boys' Club staged a track meet bringing the second semester right up to the call of the Open Road, so typical of the ending of Semester II, and the beginning of summer vacation.

CAN-CAN DANCERS
Beverly Stiehm, Nancy Pellant.

GIRLS' CLUB

Along with the incoming freshmen girls, comes the feeling of strangeness and, perhaps, even a bit of lonesomeness. Perhaps it's the size of the school or the many older senior girls who seem to take charge of so many important activities. In order to make the freshmen feel right at home, a party was given in their honor. It gave them a chance to meet the officers of Girls' Club and to acquaint themselves with their fellow freshmen.

Girls' Club members also enjoyed that ever-attractive fall style show, giving freshies and senior girls a chance to model their rich-colored fall suits, blouses, coats, and last but not least, the ever popular skirt and sweater.

With the coming of Christmas, a pantomime of the "Night Before Christmas" was presented with jolly old Saint Nick as the main attraction. For the closing meeting of the semester, a full length movie entitled "The Doughboys of Ireland" furnished entertainment for the club.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE CLUB

This past year, the Foreign Language Club has worked to give students a better understanding of the people whose language they study.

One of the meetings was devoted to the United Nations and the part it plays in bringing about international understanding, while another presented the colorful songs and dances of other lands. Several meetings were held in sections so that each language group could gain practice in speaking its language and could make a special study of the people who speak it.

Highlights of the year included the annual banquet which featured two young women, Miss Ingeborg Roller and Miss Nancy Manuel, who gave interesting talks, one about Germany and the other about South America. In March, Mr. Herbert Knapp presented his lecture and movie, "Travel Trails of the Andes."

ROUND TABLE

Well known to all Viewites, the Round Table is one of the oldest organizations in Bay View. Although in recent years the club has been broken into sections, there are still popular general meetings.

This year Round Table club sponsored a Halloween party for the school, held in the boys' and girls' gyms ninth and tenth hours. Apple cider, cookies, and donuts were served, and the music for dancing was furnished by the dance band. There was an excellent turnout for this party, and students went home reluctantly when the five o'clock bell rang.

DRAMATICS SECTION

Edith Mattick, Judy LePine, Gerald Hurley.

DANCERS

Beverly Stenicka, Geraldine Marks.

ROUND TABLE

December was a full month for the members of Round Table. Dramatic Section presented the play "Little Women," while the Stage Craft group worked industriously on the costumes for the annual school senior class play. During the Yuletide season, the traditional "Christmas Carol" was presented in movie form to the school.

The second semester found the section meetings dominating the club scene. Panel discussions, plays, and current events highlighted the various section-assemblies. Movies in East study hall were featured at the monthly gatherings.

X CLUB

OFFICERS, SEMESTER I

Wayne Leverenz, Vice-President; Fred Melms, Assembly Representative; Elaine Besewske, Scribe, Mary Dzwonkowski, Recorder; Sally Grotegut, President.

To promote scholarship, to tutor students who need help, and to give information about college scholarships are the purposes of X Club. Eligibility for membership is determined by the individual's report-card grades. To belong, a mark above ninety in every academic subject is required. When a student has received an excellent on his report cards for five successive mark days or for an entire semester, he is entitled to wear the gold X Club pin.

X Club members are by no means grinds who have no social life. Every semester they give a program for the freshmen, and have a jolly party themselves in the cafeteria.

Paul Cinkosky, Marlene Adrian, Thomas Patterson, Lincoln Smith, Thomas Risch, Lawrence Hanoski, Franklin Meyer, Richard Ranzinger.

Science Club this year was divided into sections: camera, aeronautics, home gardening and landscaping, naturalists, chemistry, and general science. Each section made projects and handled problems that were brought up by its members.

The members of the camera club were taught the developing, printing and enlarging of negatives and the coloring of pictures. Students in the aeronautics section took flights around the city and even flew to Chicago. Those in the section on landscaping and home gardening specialized in the growing of vegetables and flowers. The naturalists gathered interesting information about trees, and the chemistry and science sections performed numerous experiments.

ART CLUB

Art Club has promoted several good artists with the result that this year two of its members have won awards in the Scholastic Art Division: Betsy Brown for her linear ink drawing, "Poultry Show;" and Carl Ruppert for his semi-abstract drawing, "Transportation." Both received gold keys of achievement.

The Milwaukee Women's Club sponsored an art contest in which Carl Ruppert won the gold medal for his oil painting entitled "Young Love."

During the year, the club visited various art galleries, including the Chicago Art Institute and Field Museum.

USHERS' CLUB

While devoting much of their own time to directing visitors and students at convocations, class plays, music festivals, and operettas, the Red and Black Usher Corps have received many compliments and appreciative glances from the assembled crowds.

The Johnny caps worn by the boys have become a familiar sight at all of the programs held in the school auditorium. The presence of the ushers has always guaranteed a smooth running seating performance.

Under the advisement of Mr. Ostendorf and Mr. S. S. Williams, the ushers sponsored the annual Talent Show. This display of students' versatility is presented to raise funds for indigent pupils in Bay View.

ANNOUNCERS

Standing: Glen Sobanski, Robert Johnson, Marvin Koch, Thomas Cerretto.
Seated: Lawrence Neumann, Neil Perry, Chief Announcer.

One of the most prized positions a boy can attain while in Bay View is that of announcer over the school public address system. Aside from greeting the school in the morning and afternoon, the announcers add a touch of human interest to the spot news going over the air.

Announcers are chosen by English and Speech students on the merits of voice quality, tone, interpretation, and enunciation, and really constitute the Voice of Bay View.

"Twelve fellows on the radio crew! What did they all do in 1949 and '50?" It was the radio crew's job to see that all morning and afternoon broadcasts came over the air with the maximum amount of clarity, aliveness, and volume. They also carried responsibility for voice projection in the class play, operetta, Christmas and Memorial Day programs, in all convocations, and arranged for the question and answer projection in programs of national and world interest.

Their flash signal, "Quiet, On the Air," has real meaning for everyone both inside and outside of the radio booth.

SPOT CREW

William Mavis, Jon Heider, Richard Steel, Charles Cerny.

PROJECTION CREW

Kenneth Bock, Jon Heider, Richard Steel, Manager; Charles Cerny.

To show the best in educational movies to the school is the projection crew's job. The members of the crew give up their study periods to operate the film projectors for the various classes. This group not only runs movie machines but also slide machines, film strip, and all other projection equipment.

Deserving high praise for good hard work is the stage crew. These boys handle the lighting, scenery, and properties of the stage. The school's productions such as class plays, operettas, and auditorium programs are made effective by the efforts of this crew. They have to be able to prepare the stage for any type of program and to arrange for quick shifts of scenery at any time. "The show must go on."

With a sizzling sound of the carbons, the spots are lighted and a flood light flashes across the stage of the auditorium, effectively illuminating the Christmas manger, the flags in memorial services, the singers and dancers in special group numbers, and even the unwary lone ranger in a noon-hour skit.

STAGE CREW

Lawrence Newmann, Joan Southwick.

Barbara Gutkowski, Fred Melms.

"PRIDE AND PREJUDICE"

The Senior Class Play of 1949, "Pride and Prejudice," based upon the novel of the same name, by Jane Austen, was an hilarious hit with the Bay View audience. The humor was furnished by Mrs. Bennet in her attempts to make her daughters attractive to any young man who might be wealthy. When two such men arrive in the neighborhood, Mrs. Bennet's "Oh, my poor nerves," is frequent, for she found that getting the "proud" Mr. Darcy to admit his love for the "prejudiced" Elizabeth wasn't easy.

"Pride and Prejudice" is both old-fashioned and new-fashioned for as Mary Bennet, the book-worm of the family, remarked, "Men, as some wise person once observed, are at the bottom of all our trouble. Or did he say women?"

THE RED MILL

Lawrence Neumann, Charmaine DeNoyer, Hugh Evans

As the curtains parted on the Bay View stage on May 6 and 7, the audience was transported into the magical world of "The Red Mill." From then on they lived in the land of operetta as they watched the story unfold.

"Kid" Conner and "Con" Kidder, two Americans touring in Europe, found themselves stranded in a little inn in Holland with a week's bills and no money. Their attempted escape was stopped by the burgomaster, who had them put to work in the inn. Con found a real interest in Tina, the inn keeper's daughter. They, with Kid and Julianna, attempted to save the burgomaster's daughter, Gretchen, from a marriage with the governor of Zealand so that she might elope with her lover, Henrich Van Damm. The results of their attempts gave thrills, laughs and beautiful musical numbers to the production.

The Victor Herbert songs delighted the audience as the strains of such favorites as "Moonbeams," "The Streets of New York," "Every day is Ladies' Day With Me," and "Because You're You" were heard.

Beautiful dances, effective lighting, gay costuming, and realistic settings all combined to make "The Red Mill" one of the best operettas that Bay View has ever staged.

BAND

Over 100 strong, the Red and Black uniformed 1950 band was impressive as a marching organization and as a playing group. Precision and snap made the half-time formations Bay View musicians executed at football games outstanding. The Homecoming Parade displayed their marching skill, and the Pulaski-Bay View contest provided an opportunity to out-manuever the foe.

The climax of the year's work was the annual Music Festival. Long rehearsals and hours of individual practice went into making the production a marvelous success. The strains of "Clarinet Polka" and "Rhapsody in Blue" could be heard issuing from the humming lips of Viewites for weeks after the big event.

Feet paraded to the rhythm of martial music played by the Bay View band on Memorial Day, and children marched in the procession to pay tribute to war-dead.

The final performance of the musicians this year was at the graduation ceremony of the June class. At the commencement they played the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance" as the seniors entered for their final role in Bay View school life.

THE ORCHESTRA

ORCHESTRA

Growth in musical ability and musicianship was accomplished by members of the Bay View orchestra this year under the baton of a new director, Mr. Dietrich. The group contributed to school life, playing for the holiday programs, the operetta, the commencement, and the music festival.

One of the little recognized services to the school was given by the members of the orchestra who rehearsed faithfully night after night with the choruses and soloists that had the spotlight in the big school operetta, "The Red Mill."

The school music festival is the climax of a semester's work for all musical organizations at school. The girls in pretty, pastel gowns, and the boys in their white shirts and dark suits make the occasion pleasurable to eye and ear.

The graceful concerted arcs traced by fast-moving bows, and the flourishes of the tympanist helped to produce a symphony in motion as well as in sound. Selections by the orchestra, "The Carmen Suite," "Dance of the Spanish Onion," and "Jazz Pizzacato" were greatly enjoyed, and De Beriot's "Violin Concerto Number Seven in G Major" was the hit of the evening.

THE BAY VIEW - PULASKI GAME

"The greatest football team in the history of Bay View." This was one of the many sparkling tributes paid to Coach Merlin Schoeller's 1949 aggregation, a squad which compiled the most outstanding record in the annals of Red and Black gridiron drama.

The newly named "Redcats" virtually tore their opponents limb from limb, romping to seven straight victories before suffering a disheartening defeat in the championship finale with Pulaski. East, South, and Custer all felt the wrath of the vicious Viewite attack before the Bays met King in the Homecoming game. Rain and mud could not stop the rampaging Redcats, as the Schoellermen defied all the elements to take home a convincing 13-0 triumph, setting the stage for the drive toward the championship tilt which ended the season.

North and hapless Juneau were next in the line of the high flying Viewites, and fell under the onslaught of Redcat power. The final hurdle before the title contest pitted the Schoellermen against unpredictable Lincoln, and the Bays eked out an airtight 14-13 victory with a terrific second half rally.

CITY CHAMPIONS

A PRACTICE RUN

CROSS COUNTRY

The Redcat Cross-Country Squad had another successful season in 1949, winning the city crown for the second straight year, and taking third place in both the Midwest and state meets. Led by the powerful trio of captains, Jim Gallagher, Dennis Skarpinski, and Ken Schulz, and ably abetted by Eddie Bessler and Louis Zotter, the boys romped to dual-meet victories over such formidable opposition as Rufus King, Washington, Pulaski, and Hartford.

The Viewites first real accomplishment was winning the South Side Championship at Mitchell Park. Dennis Skarpinski brought home first place laurels when he flashed by the tape in 11.47:7, followed closely by Jim Gallagher, as the Bay thinclads took six of the first seven places to set a new low-point record for the contest. The B Team also won their section.

A few weeks later the Redcats won their seventh city title and their second in succession. Dennis Skarpinski again paced his mates to victory, taking a second, with Gallagher only a few steps behind and Ken Schulz seventh in a large field. Lou Zotter placed ninth.

The Midwest meet, an annual affair before the war, made its post-war debut at Janesville on October 22, and the Cats placed third in a field of 27 teams from four states. Skarpinski received a gold medal for finishing in seventh place.

The state meet was held at Grant Park, and the Mattheimen took a third, Racine Park winning the meet. As usual it was Skarpinski who led the Bays, taking third place, with Ken Schulz finishing tenth, and Jim Gallagher, fourteenth.

THE TEAM

BASKETBALL

Bay View scored the upset of the year when they defeated West, the champions by a score of 28-21. Nevertheless, in the final reckoning, the Bays made only the eighth place in the city conference. Much credit should be given these Viewites for the great determination they displayed in each game. Although not given much consideration by the press, they had a chance to qualify for the playoffs until the final two games.

Coach Dietzman's frosh-soph squad finished a very successful season by winning their last four games. Their record of 7-4 was good for fourth place in their division.

Finishing the season with nine wins and only four losses, the Tankmen scored a good average for 1949-50. The only teams that surpassed them were Pulaski, Boys' Tech, Shorewood, and Kenosha. However, the Tankers swamped Kenosha when the latter came to Bay View to swim.

Bay View had a state and city champ in Captain Ted Weisto, breaststroker, who set a new city record and three pool records around the city. Other outstanding performers were breaststroker Ed Shelonka, who set a new pool record at Kenosha, took second in the city and fifth in the state; diver Ron Lannewehr, who took a fourth place in the city and a fifth in the state; and freestyler Jerry Hurley who placed third in the city meet.

In the city meet, Bay View took third, and in the state, tied with West Allis, for sixth place. The nine wins and four losses brought the total for the Bay View Swimming teams under Coach Crawford to 120 wins and 78 losses, a challenging over-all average in the 16 years he's been coach.

WARMING UP

TRACK

With its strength once again centered in the weights, Bay View began the track season with a defeat in the triangular held here with East and Lincoln, but came back fast at the South Side Championship, only to drop the meet, when disqualified in the relay event.

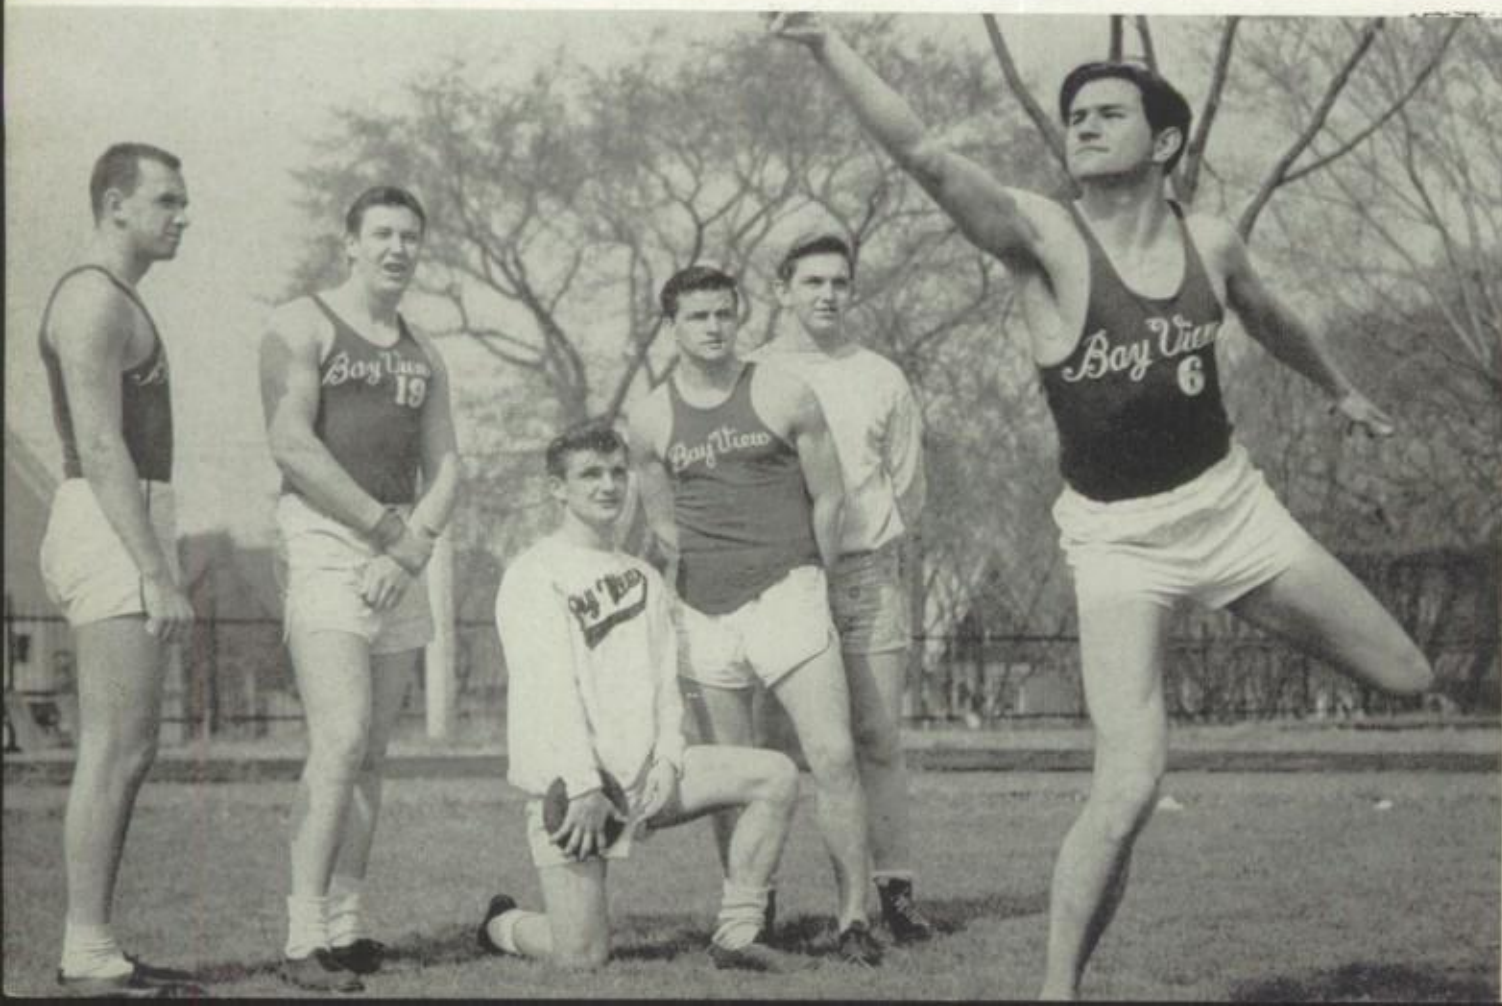

Despite a postponement, in copping the South Side Relays in an upset victory over Lincoln, the thinclads placed men in eleven of twelve events, and qualified ten teams for the City Relays.

The City Relays, the State sectionals, the State Meet and the City Meet followed in that order.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

With more students taking an active interest in intramural athletics each year, the competition has improved, but most important of all, true sportsmanship has been established among the participants.

Gymnastics held the spotlight throughout the fall months. Eighth hours found the gym filled with boys working out on the rings, horizontal and parallel bars, and tumbling mats. Out of these ranks the gym team was picked.

The winter months brought basketball, and teams were quickly formed to play in the night league, which was organized by Messes. Gradisnik, and Kaczmarek. Adopting names of the top college teams, the cagers played on Monday evenings in the school gymnasiums.

Not many students were familiar with the game of volleyball, which was introduced along with baseball as a spring sport, but it immediately caught hold. Major and minor leagues were formed with six in each.

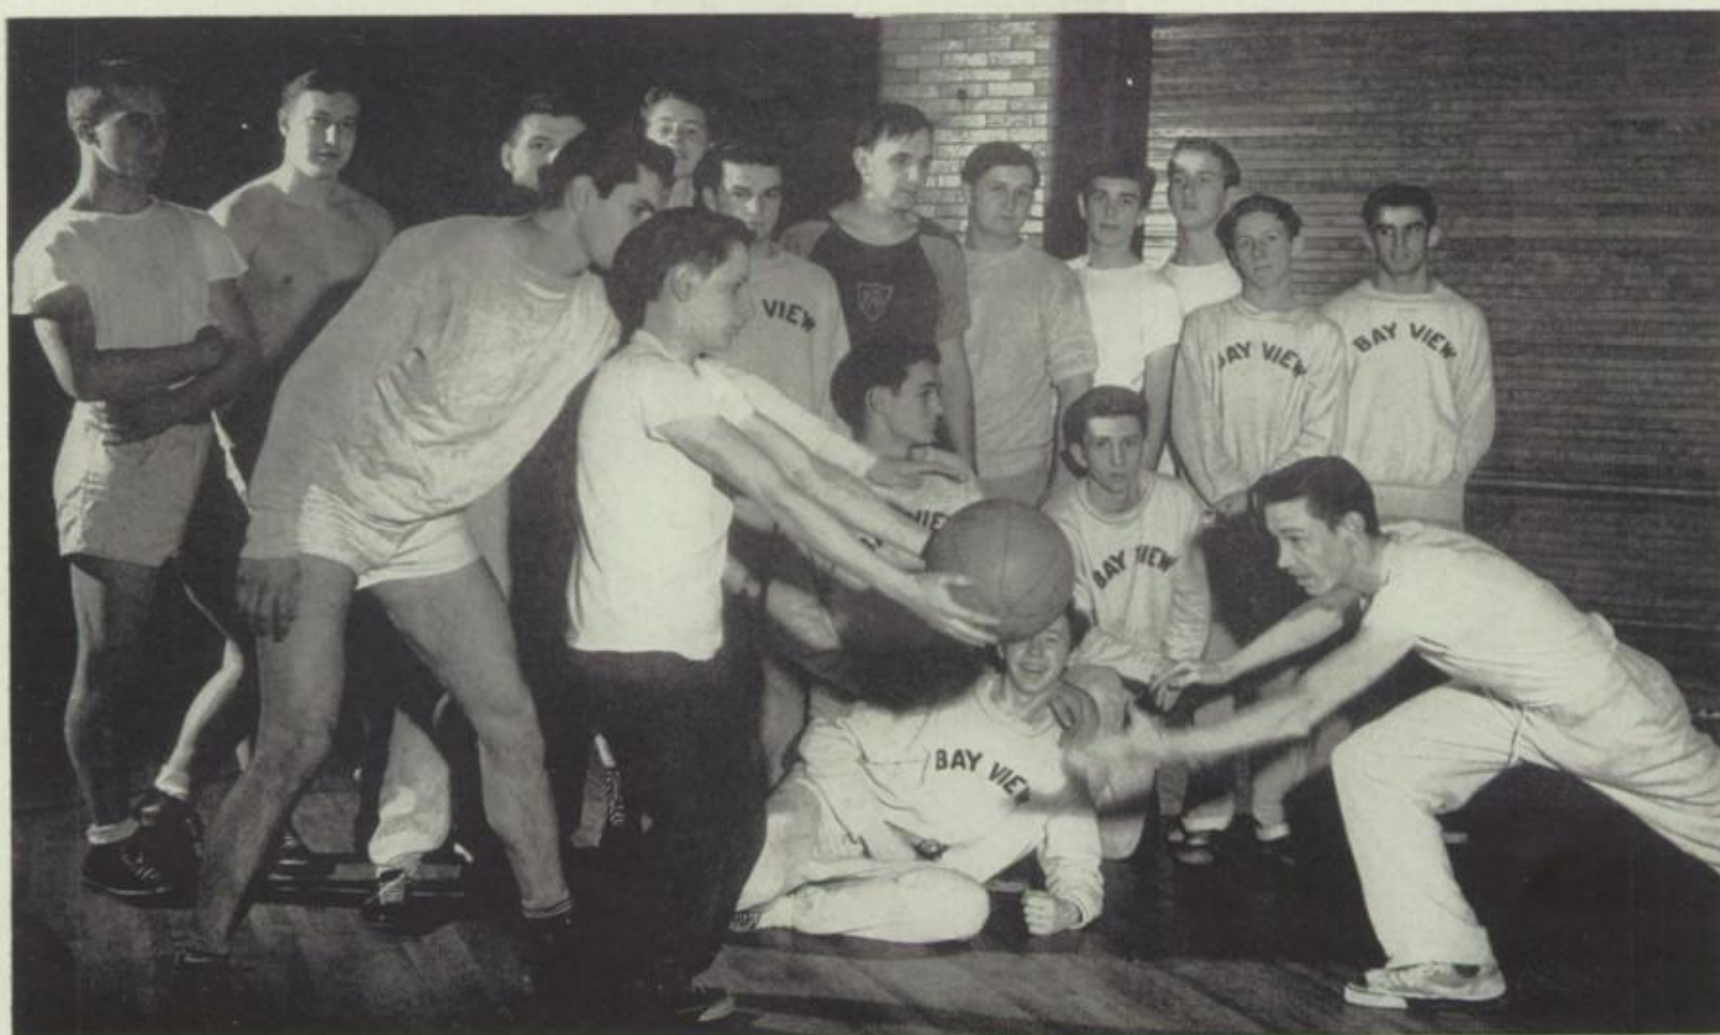

There was the largest turn-out for baseball of any intramural sport, and from the rookies the new school hard ball team was chosen.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

The importance of girls' athletics was evident to all Bay View students who heard broadcasts of athletic activities almost every morning and every afternoon. G. A. A., the Girls' Athletic Association organized last year, planned much of the sports schedule and its leaders acted as assistants to faculty advisors.

The fall season began with the tennis tournament in which girls showed the skill they had been perfecting all summer.

Tennis was followed by field hockey. Girl athletes practiced on Tuesdays and Thursdays during October and November, and the interest in the game culminated finally in a play day late in November.

For many years the great winter sport has been basketball. The girls organize in teams and play an elimination tournament. This year, mindful of the number of young people who after their school years enjoy bowling, the G. A. A. added bowling to the winter sports. So many girls were interested that teams bowled every other week in order to accommodate all.

The pool was the center of aquatic life for the girls. Here a group of class-trained life-savers become guards and leaders, and another group practiced synchronized swimming. The swimming clubs gave a swimming demonstration in the first semester and held their annual swimming meet in the second.

CLASS COMMISSION

James Gallagher, Marialyce Koenig, June Morella, James Noll

After an elected nominating committee has named the slate, all the members of the class vote for the students who compose the class commission. It is considered a great honor to be elected to it. The commission has the task of selecting the caps and gowns, making all plans for the senior dinner-dance, and collecting the dues, which cover all the graduation expenses. Preceding the members of the honor society, with the commencement, speakers they have the honor of leading the procession on graduation night.

VOCAL ENSEMBLE

JANUARY CLASS MEETING

CLASS NOTES

On a cold, January, morning in 1946, a group of some eighty-four students assembled in the Auditorium to compose one of the smallest freshman classes ever to enter Bay View. At the close of three and a half years, this same freshman class found themselves enrolling under a new title, that of the Class of January, 1950.

This small group of eighty-four students thoroughly enjoyed homeroom get-togethers, parties, and other social gatherings, for all members possessed a complete friendliness toward each other.

Through all four years of their high school careers, these students contributed in many ways to the success of various school functions. Ten members of this class, who maintained consistently high averages, were admitted to the school Honor Society.

As a lasting tribute these outstanding seniors left as their class memorial an oil painting of barren rocks and turbulent sea, "Windward Shore," by the nationally famous artist, Frederick J. Waugh.

On January 31, 1950, this class met formally for the last time, taking with them at the end of the Commencement Program not only their diplomas, but the speaker's admonition, "It is never wrong to disagree, but it is the spirit in which you do it that may make for better human relations."

HOMEROOM ADVISORS

Miss Prucha, Mr. Osterndorf

MISS PRUCHA—333

Friendliness and co-operation was the prevailing spirit in room 333 during the four years the class of '50 were there and the atmosphere made the homeroom a close, active group.

From its ranks came leaders in all forms of school life. Some became football stars and record-breaking athletes. The musically-inclined participated in Bay View's annual music festivals and operettas. Others had leading parts in the class plays or became officers and workers in the Student Government Association, X club, the Library Guild, and the Usher Corps.

Commencement found members of the group on the program and a goodly number enrolled in the honor society. In every field these graduates proved their capacity for leadership.

MR. OSTERNDORF—304

There were leaders in scholarship and co-curricular activities among the members of homeroom 304, which retained the honor plaque for seventy-five per cent of their time spent at school. Six of the members were in the honor society and all were active in some facet of school life.

As a group, the homeroom had numerous parties during their four years and sponsored a St. Patrick's day dance in conjunction with room 333.

Athletic teams, club work, student government, the Oracle, dramatic and musical productions, all had representatives from 304. It was particularly these outside activities that kept many members of this room at Bay View long after the dismissal bell. A commencement speaker and class commission members were chosen from this room.

CLASS NOTES

The June Class of 1950 has had enviable opportunities as a class. They have known student government at its best. When they arrived, many of the earlier adjustments to honor study halls, monitor surveillance, and student court had been made, and they were permitted to enter the scene of school activities with the machinery of government well organized. Being the "turn-of-the-century class," they were early marked as leaders, taking over their assignments to "Teen-Age Time" with real eagerness and producing two outstanding broadcasts with WTMJ. Also, during their last year, "parent night" took a new turn, parents having the opportunity to go through the academic program of their children, father doing one marathon and mother, another, if there were two or more children in the family. Nor will the class of 1950 ever forget that their musicians and athletes participated in the opening of the Milwaukee Arena, April 22, 1950.

To guide the class through the business of collecting class dues, making cap-and-gown decisions, arranging a dinner-dance, and selecting a class memorial, five seniors were elected to the class commission: Robert Ewing, Nadine Goldstein, Georgine Gorske, Robert Hammes, and Theodore Weisto.

The class was outstanding also in scholarship, ten of their members receiving medals for scholarship and service and twenty-seven receiving membership in the Honor Society.

And now the class of 1950 looks forward to the time when they will change the date line to the year 2000, showing personal accomplishment in the next fifty years.

Robert Ewing, Nadine Goldstein, Robert Hammes, Georgine Gorske, Theodore Weisto.

HOMEROOM TEACHERS

Mrs. Breitling, Miss Lane, Mrs. Grimes, Miss Batz.

MISS BATZ—419

Homeroom 419 was first organized in room 402, but because of lack of space for new students, the homeroom was changed to 419 during the 9A semester.

The combining of talents to put on the Be-Bop-Hop took both the co-operation and willingness to work of each student, and the dance proved to be a great success.

Every member of the homeroom has contributed to the well-being of the school, and many students have been outstanding in several activities.

MRS. BREITLING—326

The activities of this homeroom extended into every branch of school life. Their personnel included the best swimmer in the city, football and varsity basketball players, and projection-radio crew workers. Many were members of the orchestra, the band, the a capella, and the glee club.

They had the X Club plaque as freshmen and seniors, and especially enjoyed working together on their homeroom annual, an annual complete with pictures, addresses, and intimate biographies.

MRS. GRIMES—226

Lively discussions on life advisement day, the attempts to get the honor plaque, and of course, the "Gobblers' Hop," produced good homeroom spirit.

Seldom as a group, but often as individuals, the students of 226 worked to make Bay View a leading school. Some have been radio announcers; some, holders of honor awards; some, participants in the operettas and class plays; and others, just good, average but faithful students.

MISS LANE—321

By sending relief parcels to Europe this homeroom made many friends overseas. Sponsoring the "Holly Hop," refinishing their desks, achieving the honor plaque several times, and winning four pictures in the sale of class-play tickets were among their many homeroom accomplishments. These successes were due largely to the co-operative spirit and enthusiasm of the members of this homeroom.

Nor will they forget the special adornments in the form of plant holders which they contributed to make their north room pleasant all year 'round.

HOMEROOM TEACHERS

Miss Miller, Mrs. Lynch, Mrs. Shutes, Miss Zarling.

MRS. LYNCH—318

On a sunny September morning in 1946, Mrs. Lynch found awaiting her in the auditorium a group of thirty-five timid freshmen.

Through the four years, these students, of whom twenty-three of the original remained, have excelled in many activities including music, Oracle work, announcing, class plays, operettas, and student government.

Homeroom 318 has always known good fellowship and co-operation and to their spirit must be attributed in large part the success of the building ushers.

MISS MILLER—332

Most of the first year in 332 was spent admiring the mighty seniors and attempting to follow their example. As sophomores the students of this room organized a club and called themselves the three-thirty-twoers.

As juniors and seniors many were active in athletics, clubs, student self-government, class plays, and operettas, and organized good conduct week, putting on broadcasts in their senior year to set an example of good conduct for the school.

MRS. SHUTES—214

In September, 1946, forty-five freshmen, of which number thirty-six were to graduate, entered homeroom 214, a homeroom later to be filled many times with the brilliant and colorful costumes of the class plays and operettas.

Striving past the field of classwork, this homeroom was prominent in club leadership. Red letter days came when they won the freshman-sophomore homeroom basketball title, and sponsored a clever Saturday night dance called "Country Style."

MISS ZARLING—322

Many happy memories will be cherished by the students of 322, who became very good friends through close association in four years. They worked as a united group to present the "Springtime Carnival" dance, one of the most colorful and popular dances of 1950.

This homeroom gave to the school leaders in student government, in athletics, and in clubs. Two first-team football men, Bay View's high score in basketball, and the presidents of Girls' Club, and Boys' Club came from 322.

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW

We're the fellows of the Radio Crew
Who've brought announcements to Bay View,
And though they've kept us on the run,
We've all shared in the work and fun.

This year the crew was fourteen strong,
But some won't be here very long,
For six are grads who wish to say,
"Bay View's been swell in every way!"

for GOOD PRINTING . . . The value that comes from the assurance that you have the right kind of personal or business stationery, or advertising material, is exceeded only by the impression it makes on the customer. It reflects a pride in your business which is immediately apparent — a sentiment which persists long after the cost is forgotten.

Listen You big Lug

If you weren't so big and me not so small, I'd beat you up every time I'd see you I'd take away your girl and make mad love to her. But since I'm so small, I'd better keep my mouth shut ~~and~~ and take what comes and goes.
Putting all kidding aside I've been fun knowing
you. So Here's wishing you loads of Luck
Love & Stuff

Dear Jerry,

Lots of luck and success to a pal I'm glad I had the pleasure of knowing. I still think it's a mean trick you pulled with that note. Be good and remember me.

Nicknames are fine and they're okay -
When good and sharp like "Burlymae";
But if mine were only slightly kinder then I guess I wouldn't mind 'em. Signed

This is the end as you can see
And it was chosen purposefully

Dear Jerry,

Maybe I didn't enjoy the poundings I received on the back, but I sure enjoyed sitting in front of you in C. 4th. & May reading your poems. May you have the best life
I have to offer — you deserve it.

Sincerely,
Loris Hansen
